Background Information

Scope and Content Note

This collection (cataloged on Bib #721012) contains correspondence, receipts, dissertation information, speeches, clippings and other miscellaneous materials from Claude Rodolphus (C.R.) Wood (1892-1981), first academic dean of Jacksonville State Normal School. Wood graduated from the Sixth District Agricultural School in Hamilton, Alabama, and went on to Alabama Polytechnic Institute (now Auburn University) in 1910. He graduated with a Bachelor of Science in 1912 and a Master of Science in 1914; he also spent some time as a summer school student in 1915 at the University of Alabama. He went on to a career as a teacher for three years, and four years as a principal before joining the faculty of the State Normal School in 1920. He taught mathematics and was also the school's first Director of Extension. Wood received his doctoral degree in 1929 from Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee; his dissertation was entitled, "Does 'Personality' Have a Definite and Consistent Use in Education?"

Wood served as the Normal School's first academic dean, a position he held beginning in 1931. His wife, Ramona Middleton Wood, was the school's librarian from 1921 until her death in 1953; the Ramona Wood building is named for her. C.R. Wood served as dean until his retirement in 1955.

Provenance

The provenance of these items is unknown, though the bulk appears to originate from Wood's time at the State Normal School. The First Hundred Years history states, "Frankie Battle Wood, who married Dean Wood on October 11, 1969, now lives in Anniston, and has contributed many of her husband's papers to the university" (p. 51). It is likely these items are at least some of the papers mentioned.

Processing Information

Arranged and described by Bethany Latham, 2021.

Inventory by Alisha Cantrell, 2021.

Physical Condition

Most items are in good condition. Some are torn or damaged by rust from paper clips, etc.
