

A wedding of much social interest in Fayetteville was that of Miss Josie Diemer Caldwell to Mr. Carl Stanton Lay, of Gadsden, Ala., which took place on Thursday morning, Oct. 4th, in St. Luke's church at Jacksonville, Ala. Rev. Allan officiated and one hundred guests witnessed the ceremony for which Miss Annie Stephenson played the wedding music. The church was artistically decorated with a profusion of golden rod, palms and ferns. Mr. Fernwood Mitchell, of Birmingham, Ala., who acted as Mr. Lay's best man, and Mrs. Joseph J. Arnold as Miss Caldwell's matron of honor, were the only attendants. Immediately after the ceremony Mr and Mrs. Lay left for their future home in Gadsden, Ala. Enroute the bridal party was entertained in Anniston, at the "Alabama Hotel." Among the prenuptial affairs given Miss Caldwell was a linen shower given by Mrs. Joe J. Arnold and a reception at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Forney Caldwell, on the night preceding the wedding. At this, the bride, who is a rare Southern beauty, was becomingly gowned in an exquisite embroidered mulle, finished with elaborate lace in sections and handwork. Mrs. Lay was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Caldwell and the Misses Caldwell. A display of handsome wedding gifts was a feature, many coming from friends from a distance. Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Lay, Mrs Pinckrad, Misses Mary Dortch, Carrie Brooks, Jessie D. Smith, Messrs. Everett, Tracy and Earl Lay of Gadsden; Misses Mary Joe, Edith and Mary Greer Caldwell of Birmingham; Miss Maud Edmonson of Anniston; Miss Mary Mason of Athens, Miss Elise Lamb, Dorothy Cowan and Mrs. Wm. Guy Cowan of Fayetteville Tenn.
